HEROES

LEGENDARY K-ZONERS DOING LEGENDARY THINGS.

WATER WARRIOR

Name: Ava

Heroic feat: Winning the 2020 National Water Week Short Film Competition (Primary School Category) with her entry, 'How recycled water is helping reimagine our water future'!

FAST FOUR WITH AVA

K-Z: Hi Ava! Why did you enter the National Water Week Short Film Competition?

A: My STEM teacher (Dr Tang), introduced it and encouraged us to participate. I wanted to enter because I like creating videos, and my brother made a video in the previous year. It was my first time entering, and I hoped my video was good.

K-Z: Why did you choose the film topic?

A: I wanted people to understand the importance of saving water. We tend to waste it, and water levels are declining. If we don't take action, all freshwater might be gone, so I thought about how recycling water would be great for our future.

K-Z: How long did the film take to create?

A: Approximately two weeks. I had to research, get photos, write the text, record my voice and make the video. I watched videos for more information and to see how others formatted films. I had to learn to use video-making software called 'Doodly'; it took me a while to figure out. While making my film, I realised that using Doodly was easy! Days earlier, I thought I would never understand how Doodly worked!

K-Z: Should K-Zoners submit a film?

A: Other kids should enter the competition because it is exciting, fun and educational. I liked making the video on Doodly, and thinking about the text. It also teaches you important science concepts. You should enter, it doesn't matter whether you win! You can learn science, writing and computer skills. It's also fun to make videos and add pictures to them!

NEWS FEED

BITE-SIZED NEWS FOR HUNGRY MINDS!

WORLD NEWS

The world's highest mountain, Mount Everest, has been calculated with a new official height of 8848.86m – 0.86m higher than previously recorded! Some geologists believe that Mount Everest rises about half a metre each century due to shifting tectonic plates below, but any earthquakes can also lower it. Experts believe the 2015 7.8 magnitude earthquake in Nepal affected the height. Surveyors climbed to the summit in 2019 and 2020 to remeasure the height, confirming it in December 2020.

SPACE NEWS

NASA has chosen 18 astronauts for the Artemis Team, paving the way for the next astronaut missions on/around the Moon. The Artemis III mission will send the next man and first woman to the Moon by 2024. These astronauts will be the first to visit the Moon's South Pole! This program will establish a sustainable human presence on the Moon before 2030 and send astronauts further into the solar system than ever before, including to Mars!

DEADLY SCIENCE

DEADLY AUSTRALIAN ANIMAL FACTS AND INDIGENOUS SCIENCE!

As the founder of DeadlyScience, Corey Tutt loves sharing cool science facts. He's also the 2020 NSW Young Australian of the Year. Wow! DeadlyScience provides science books and equipment to remote schools in Australia. For more information, you can visit www.deadlyscience.org.au!

PLANT POWER

The spiny-headed mat-rush is a large tussock plant, and is native Australia-wide, except for the Northern Territory and Western Australia! In south-eastern Australia, the people of the Wurundjeri Nation love the plant and use it often for weaving headbands, strong baskets and bags. However, this plant isn't only used for deadly fashion; the Wurundjeri people use spiny-headed mat-rush to make special fish traps and fishing nets too. The seeds are ground into a paste to make bread, and the roots and leaves are also used to treat painful sores and insect bites!

– Corey Tutt

DEADLY EXPERIMENT

1. Collect some established plants, and a few jam jars. Add water and a touch of food colouring to the jars!
2. Place the plants in the jars.
3. After a week has passed, measure and note the growth of each plant.
4. After a second week, measure each plant again and compare the results to find the best water colour for growth!

IDEAS LAB

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, ART AND MATHS!

Meet Dr Bianca Lê, a cell biologist who studies the tiny cells that make up all humans, plants and animals, and the Founder and Director of Cellular Agriculture Australia!

K-Z: Hi Bianca! What do you do as a cell biologist, and in your role as Founder and Director at Cellular Agriculture Australia?

B: I am the Director of a charity that helps Australians to grow food in a way that's good for our planet. I learn about new ways to make healthy meat, eggs and milk, without harming any animals. Cellular Agriculture Australia's aim is to save planet Earth and all the humans and animals living on it! We want everyone to learn about how some of the food we eat is bad for the environment, damaging to our health, and hurting lots of animals. Cellular agriculture is all about making food in a way that doesn't harm our environment, health or animals.

K-Z: Wow! What experience did you have before your current role?

B: I love learning new things! I studied biology at university for nearly 10 years before starting my job at Cellular Agriculture Australia. I also currently teach university students about how the human body works.

K-Z: What would K-Zoners be surprised to learn about you?

B: I love music and dancing! When I'm not working, I play the piano and dance ballet. I was the senior music captain back in high school!

K-Z: What are the best and worst parts of your job?

B: The best part of my job is getting to talk to groups of people about my research, whether it's in a classroom, at a conference, on radio, or getting interviewed for a magazine! The worst part is having to do all the talks on Zoom instead of in person because of Covid-19. If we all do our bit to stop the spread of the virus, then hopefully we can go back to seeing each other in person!

K-Z: Did you gain any skills from your childhood hobbies that you use at work?

B: My dad liked to buy second hand gadgets from local garage sales. He would give me old microscopes and magnifying glasses to play with. I remember spending hours in the yard finding things to look at under the microscope and being amazed (or sometimes scared) by how there was an entire world we couldn't see with the naked eye!

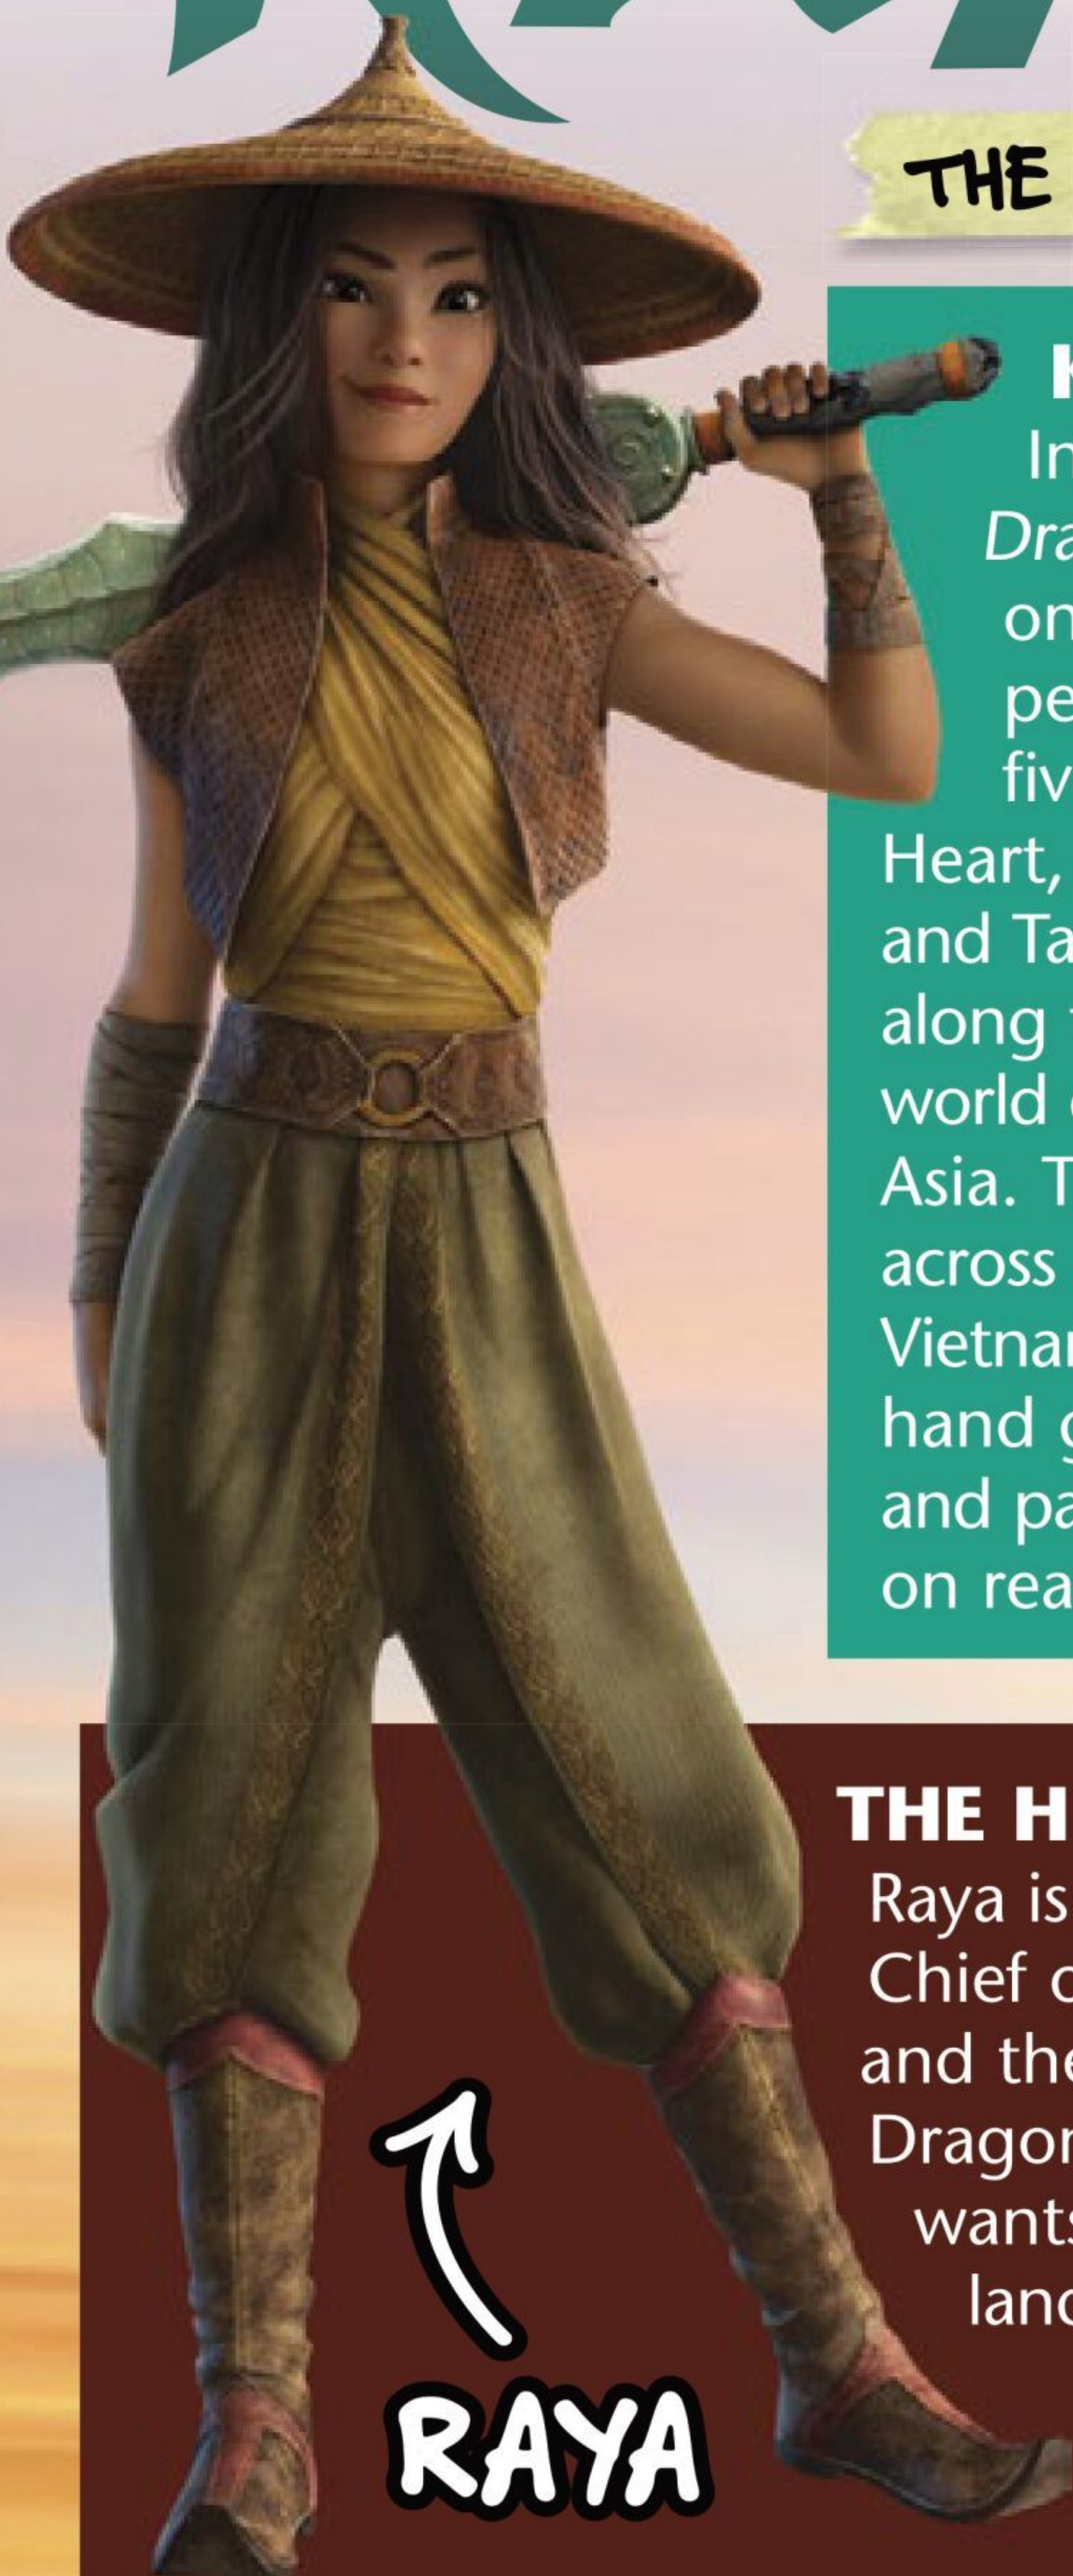

K-Z: What would you say to K-Zoners who want to work in a similar role?

B: As a kid, I always asked 'Why?' when my parents and sisters explained something to me. Asking 'Why?' makes someone a good scientist! If you like asking 'Why?', you are curious and smart enough to be a successful scientist.

RAYA AND K

THE LANDS OF KUMANDRA MIGHT NOT BE REAL, BUT ALL ARE INSPIRED

RAYA

KUMANDRA

In Raya and the Last Dragon, Raya is a warrior on a quest to save her people and unify the five lands of Kumandra; Heart, Talon, Fang, Spine and Tail. Each land is located along the course of a winding river that resembles a dragon's body. The world of Kumandra is inspired by the countries and cultures of Southeast Asia. To conduct research for the movie, a group of experts travelled across Southeast Asia, including Indonesia, Thailand, Malaysia, Cambodia, Vietnam, Laos and Singapore. Many of the film's characters use a circular hand gesture similar to movements in the peninsula of Southeast Asia and parts of Indonesia. Every punch, kick and block in the movie is based on real martial arts, including Muay Thai, Pencak Silat and Arnis.

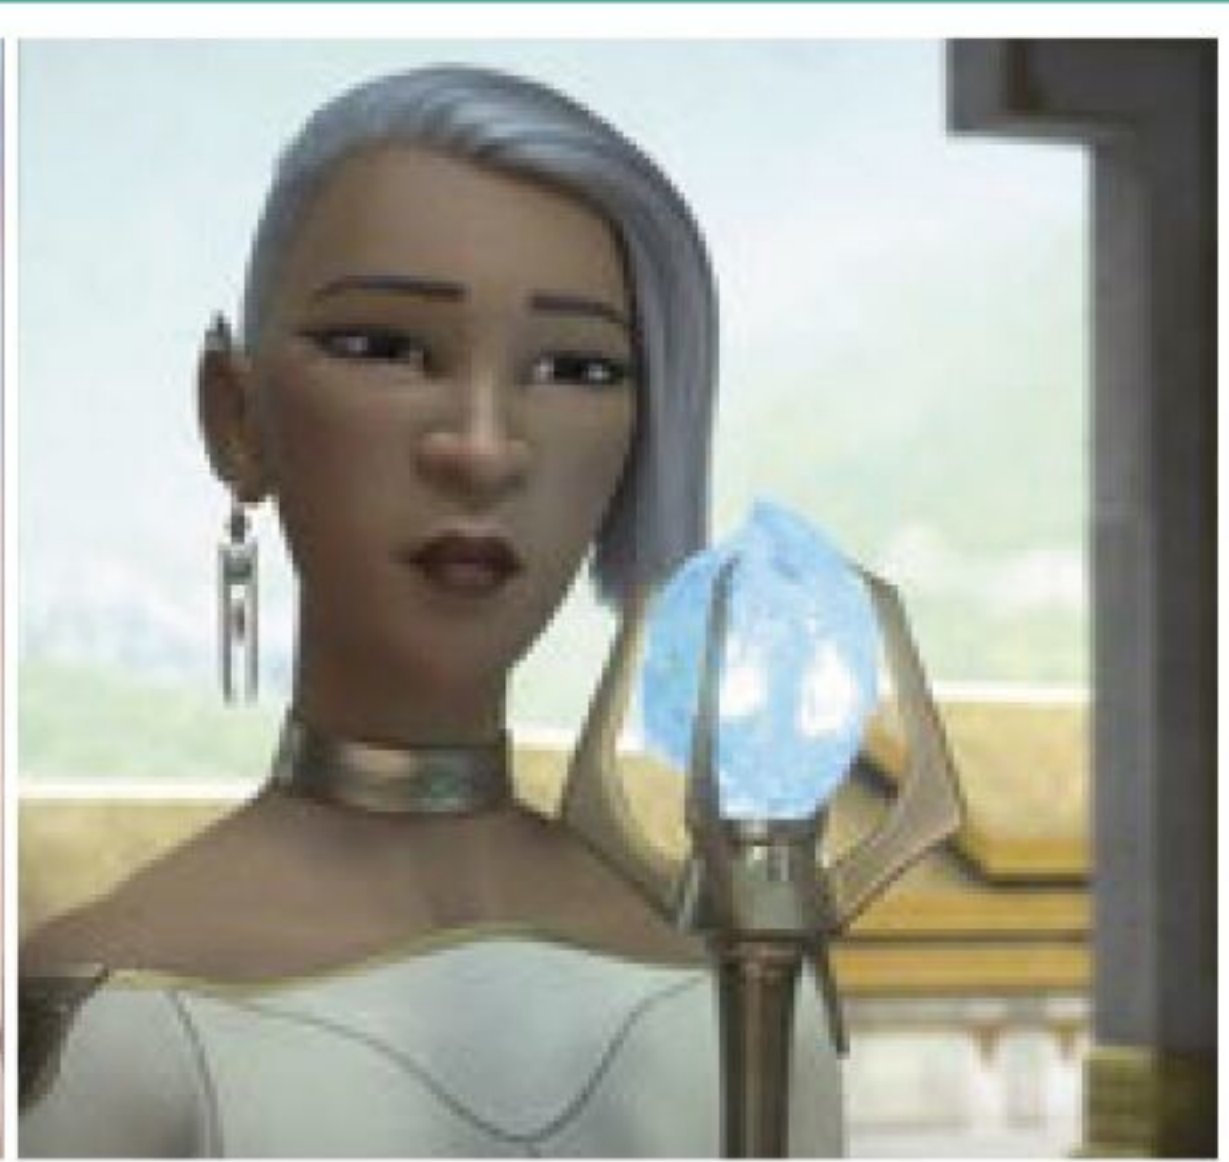

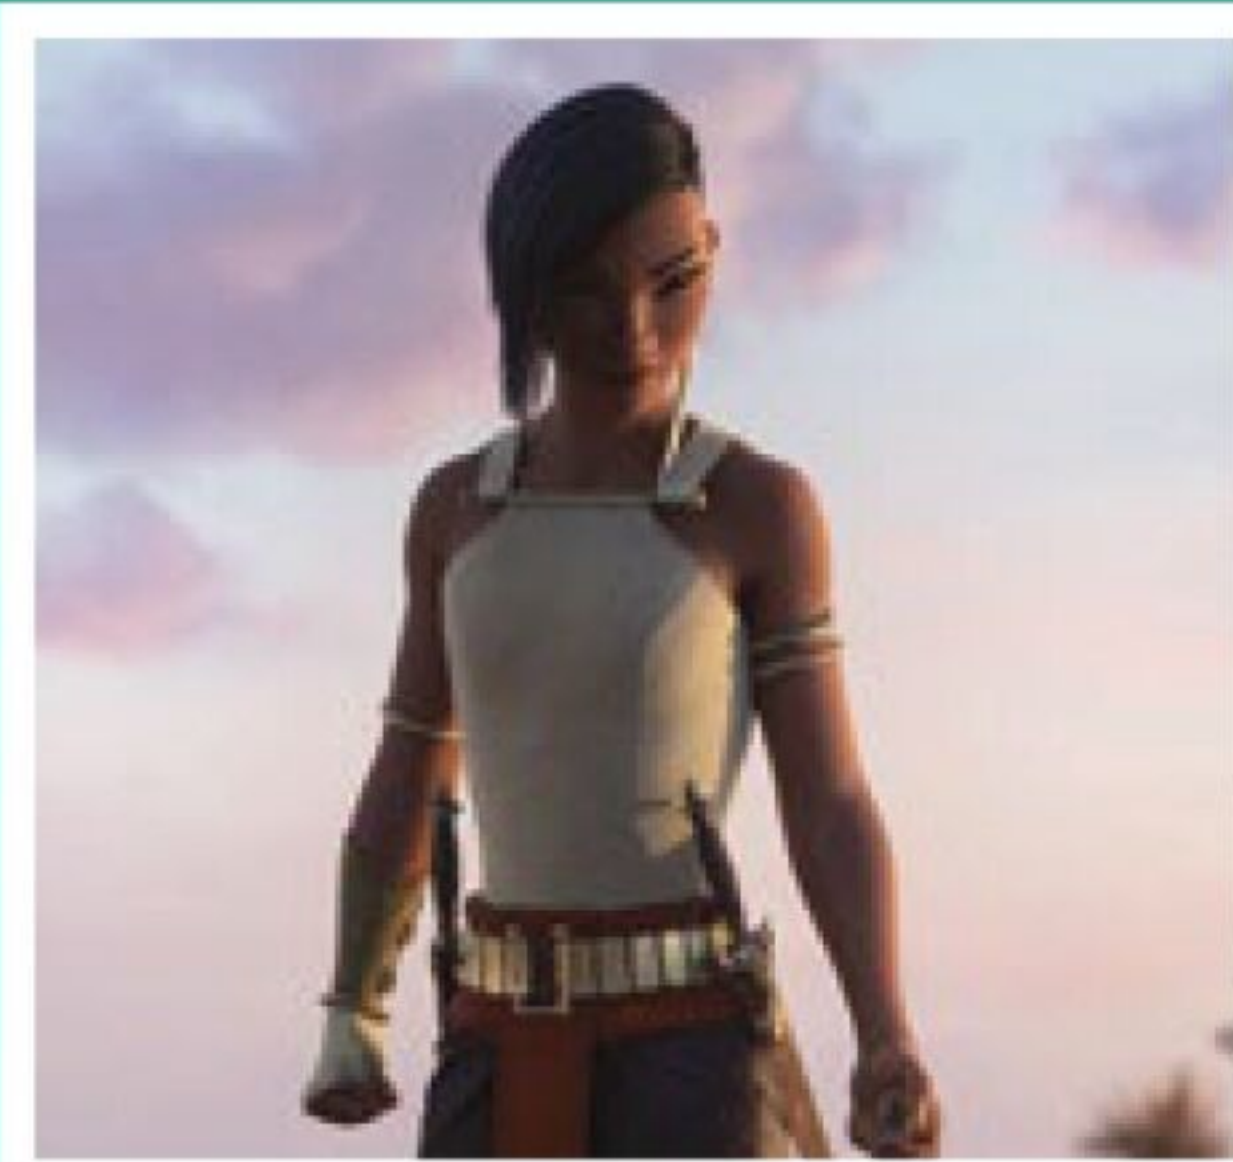

THE HEART

Raya is the daughter of the Chief of the Heart Lands and the Guardian of the Dragon Gem. Chief Benja wants to reunite all the lands of Kumandra. The Heart people often dress in green and blue. Young Raya wields bastons (fighting sticks) used in the martial art of Arnis, Kalis or Escrima created in the Philippines. Even the shape of Raya's hat is inspired by the stoupas at temples found in Southeast Asia. In Malay, 'Raya' means 'celebration' and in the South of Thailand, 'Raya' means 'one who leads'.

THE FANG

The Fang people wear white and yellow, and carry spears similar to the 'kaoliam' (hooked spears) used in Silat martial arts, or the 'angkusa' (spears used by the elephant guards of Southeast Asian royalty). Raya's nemesis, Namaari, is from the Fang land, and is the daughter of the Fang chief, Virana. Virana is cool and calculating, leading with fierce practicality.

UMANORA

RED BY VERY REAL PLACES ON EARTH!

THE TALON

The Talon citizens wear mostly pink and purple, and their weapon of choice is a dagger with a curved tip and bend at the handle. This is similar to the design of 'rencong' daggers, used by the Malay and Javanese people. The design is also like 'keris' daggers, formed by folding metals and washing in acid (and rumoured to be infused with venom). The keris has been produced in many regions of Indonesia for centuries and is commonly associated with Javanese culture. Many other ethnicities are familiar with the weapon, including the Balinese, Madurese, Buginese, Malay, Banjar, Makassar and Sundanese people. Talon's floating markets are also inspired by the Mekong region of Southeast Asia.

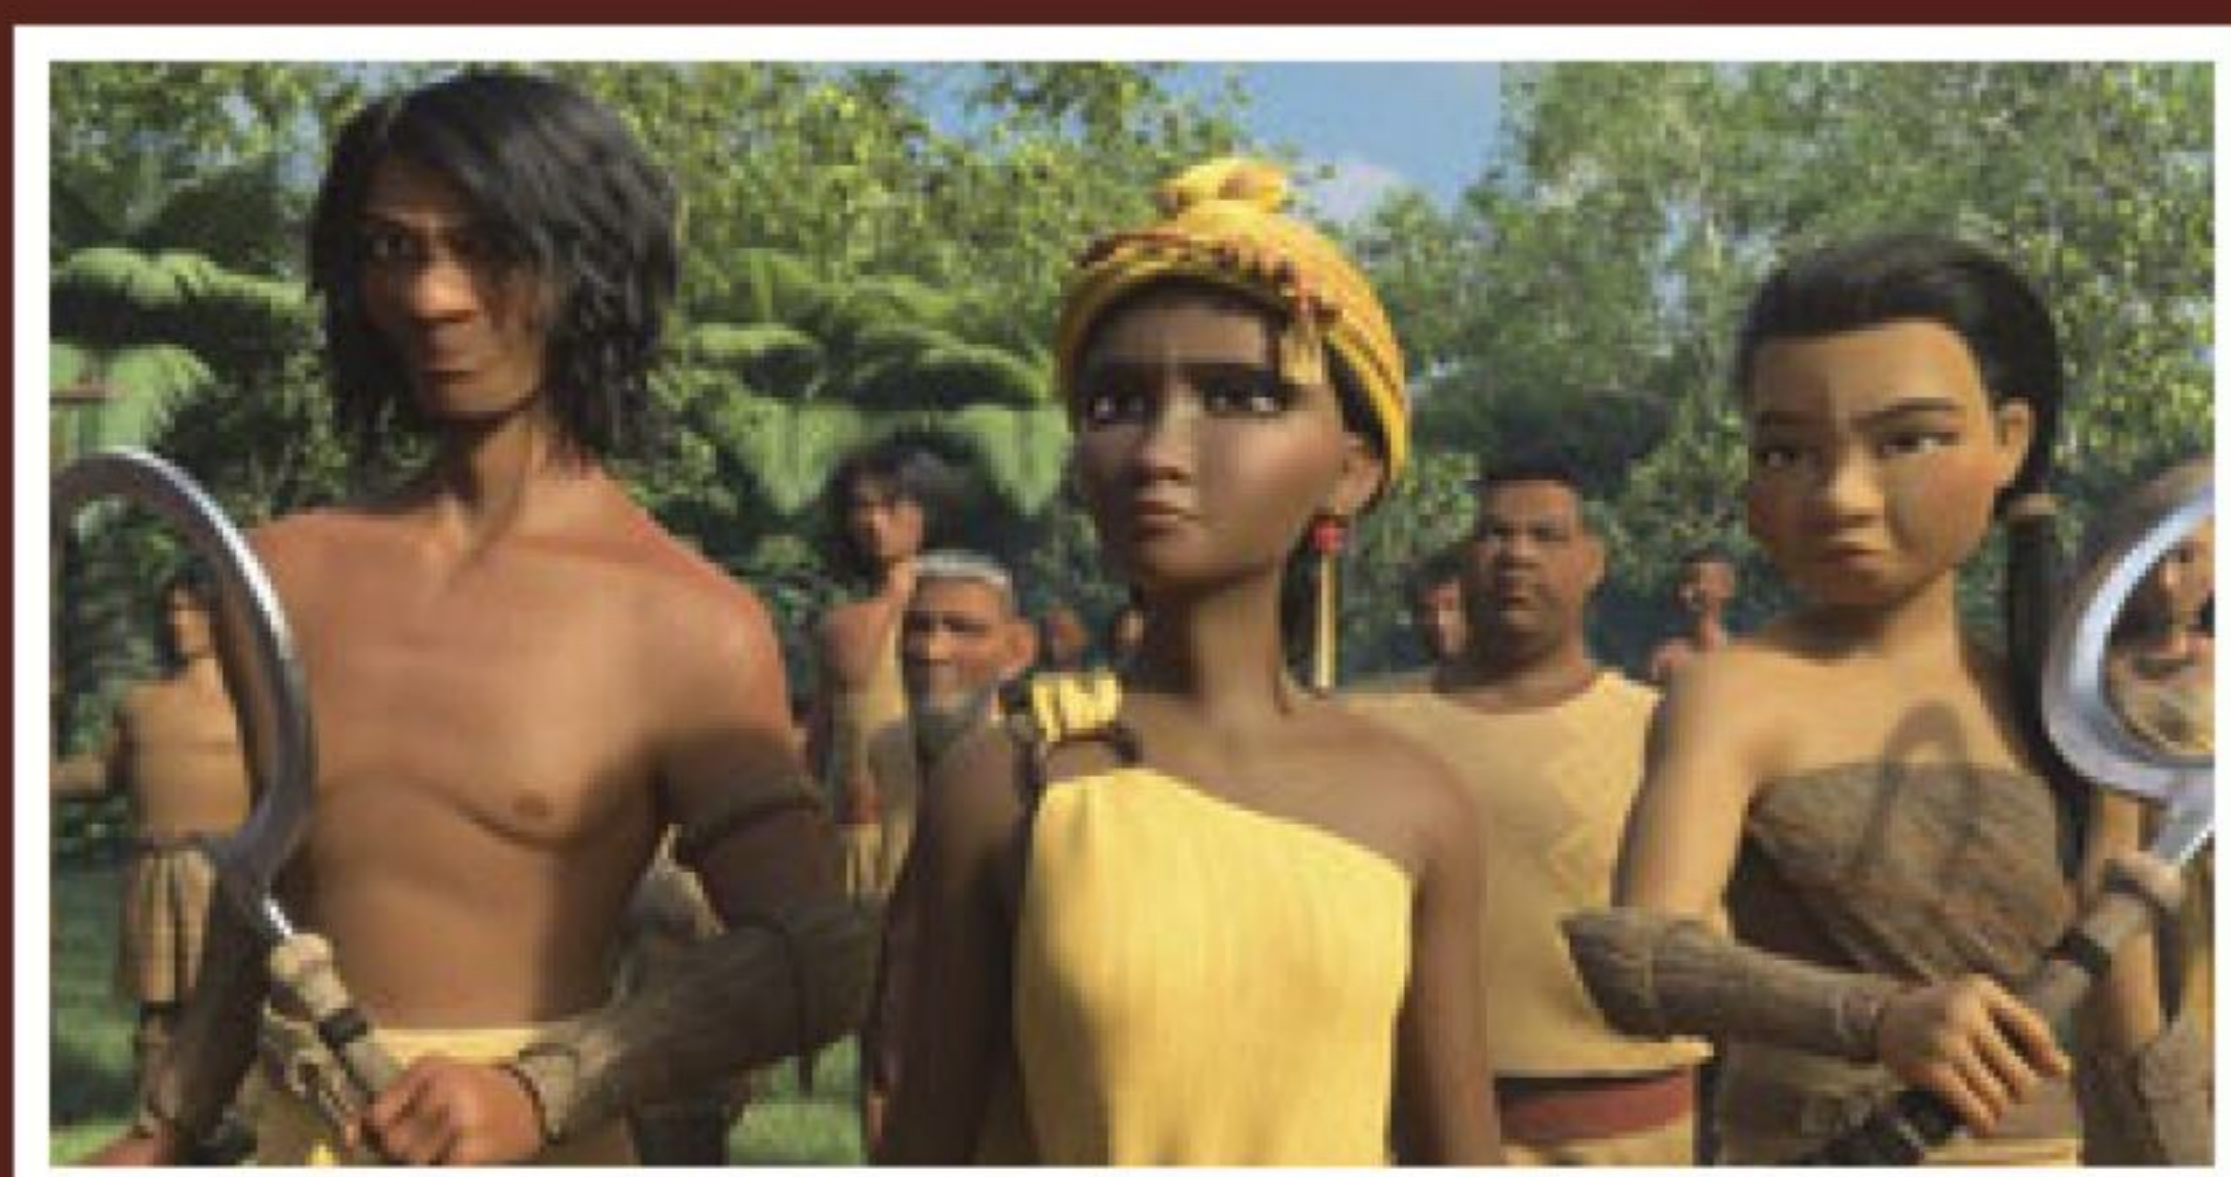

THE SPINE

The Spine's people wear grey-blue with purple, and wield a battle axe. The Moro people of the Philippines use an axe called 'panabas', but the axes in the Spine don't closely resemble the panabas design. Some Spine citizens also wield curved daggers; perhaps because the Spine isn't far from the Talon. The Spine people are fierce warriors who thrive in the snowy mountains. Tong the giant warrior is from the Spine.

THE TAIL

Yellow or beige tones are commonly worn in the Tail, and people carry a curved blade similar to the Madurese 'celurit'/'sabit' or the Sundanese 'kujang'. These groups are native to Indonesia and the blades are used in the martial art of Silat.

THE LAST DRAGON

Sisu's design is inspired by the mythical Nāga, divine or semi-divine beings who are half-human and half-serpent. Revered in Southeast Asia, Nāga may take human form, but usually appear as a giant water serpent. There are well-known legends about Nāga in many cultures, including the Nāga of Chini Lake in Pahang, Malaysia.

Raya and the Last Dragon is in cinemas now, or on Disney+ with Premier Access!

LOKI

WHAT WE KNOW, THINK WE KNOW AND DON'T KNOW ABOUT LOKI'S NEW SHOW!

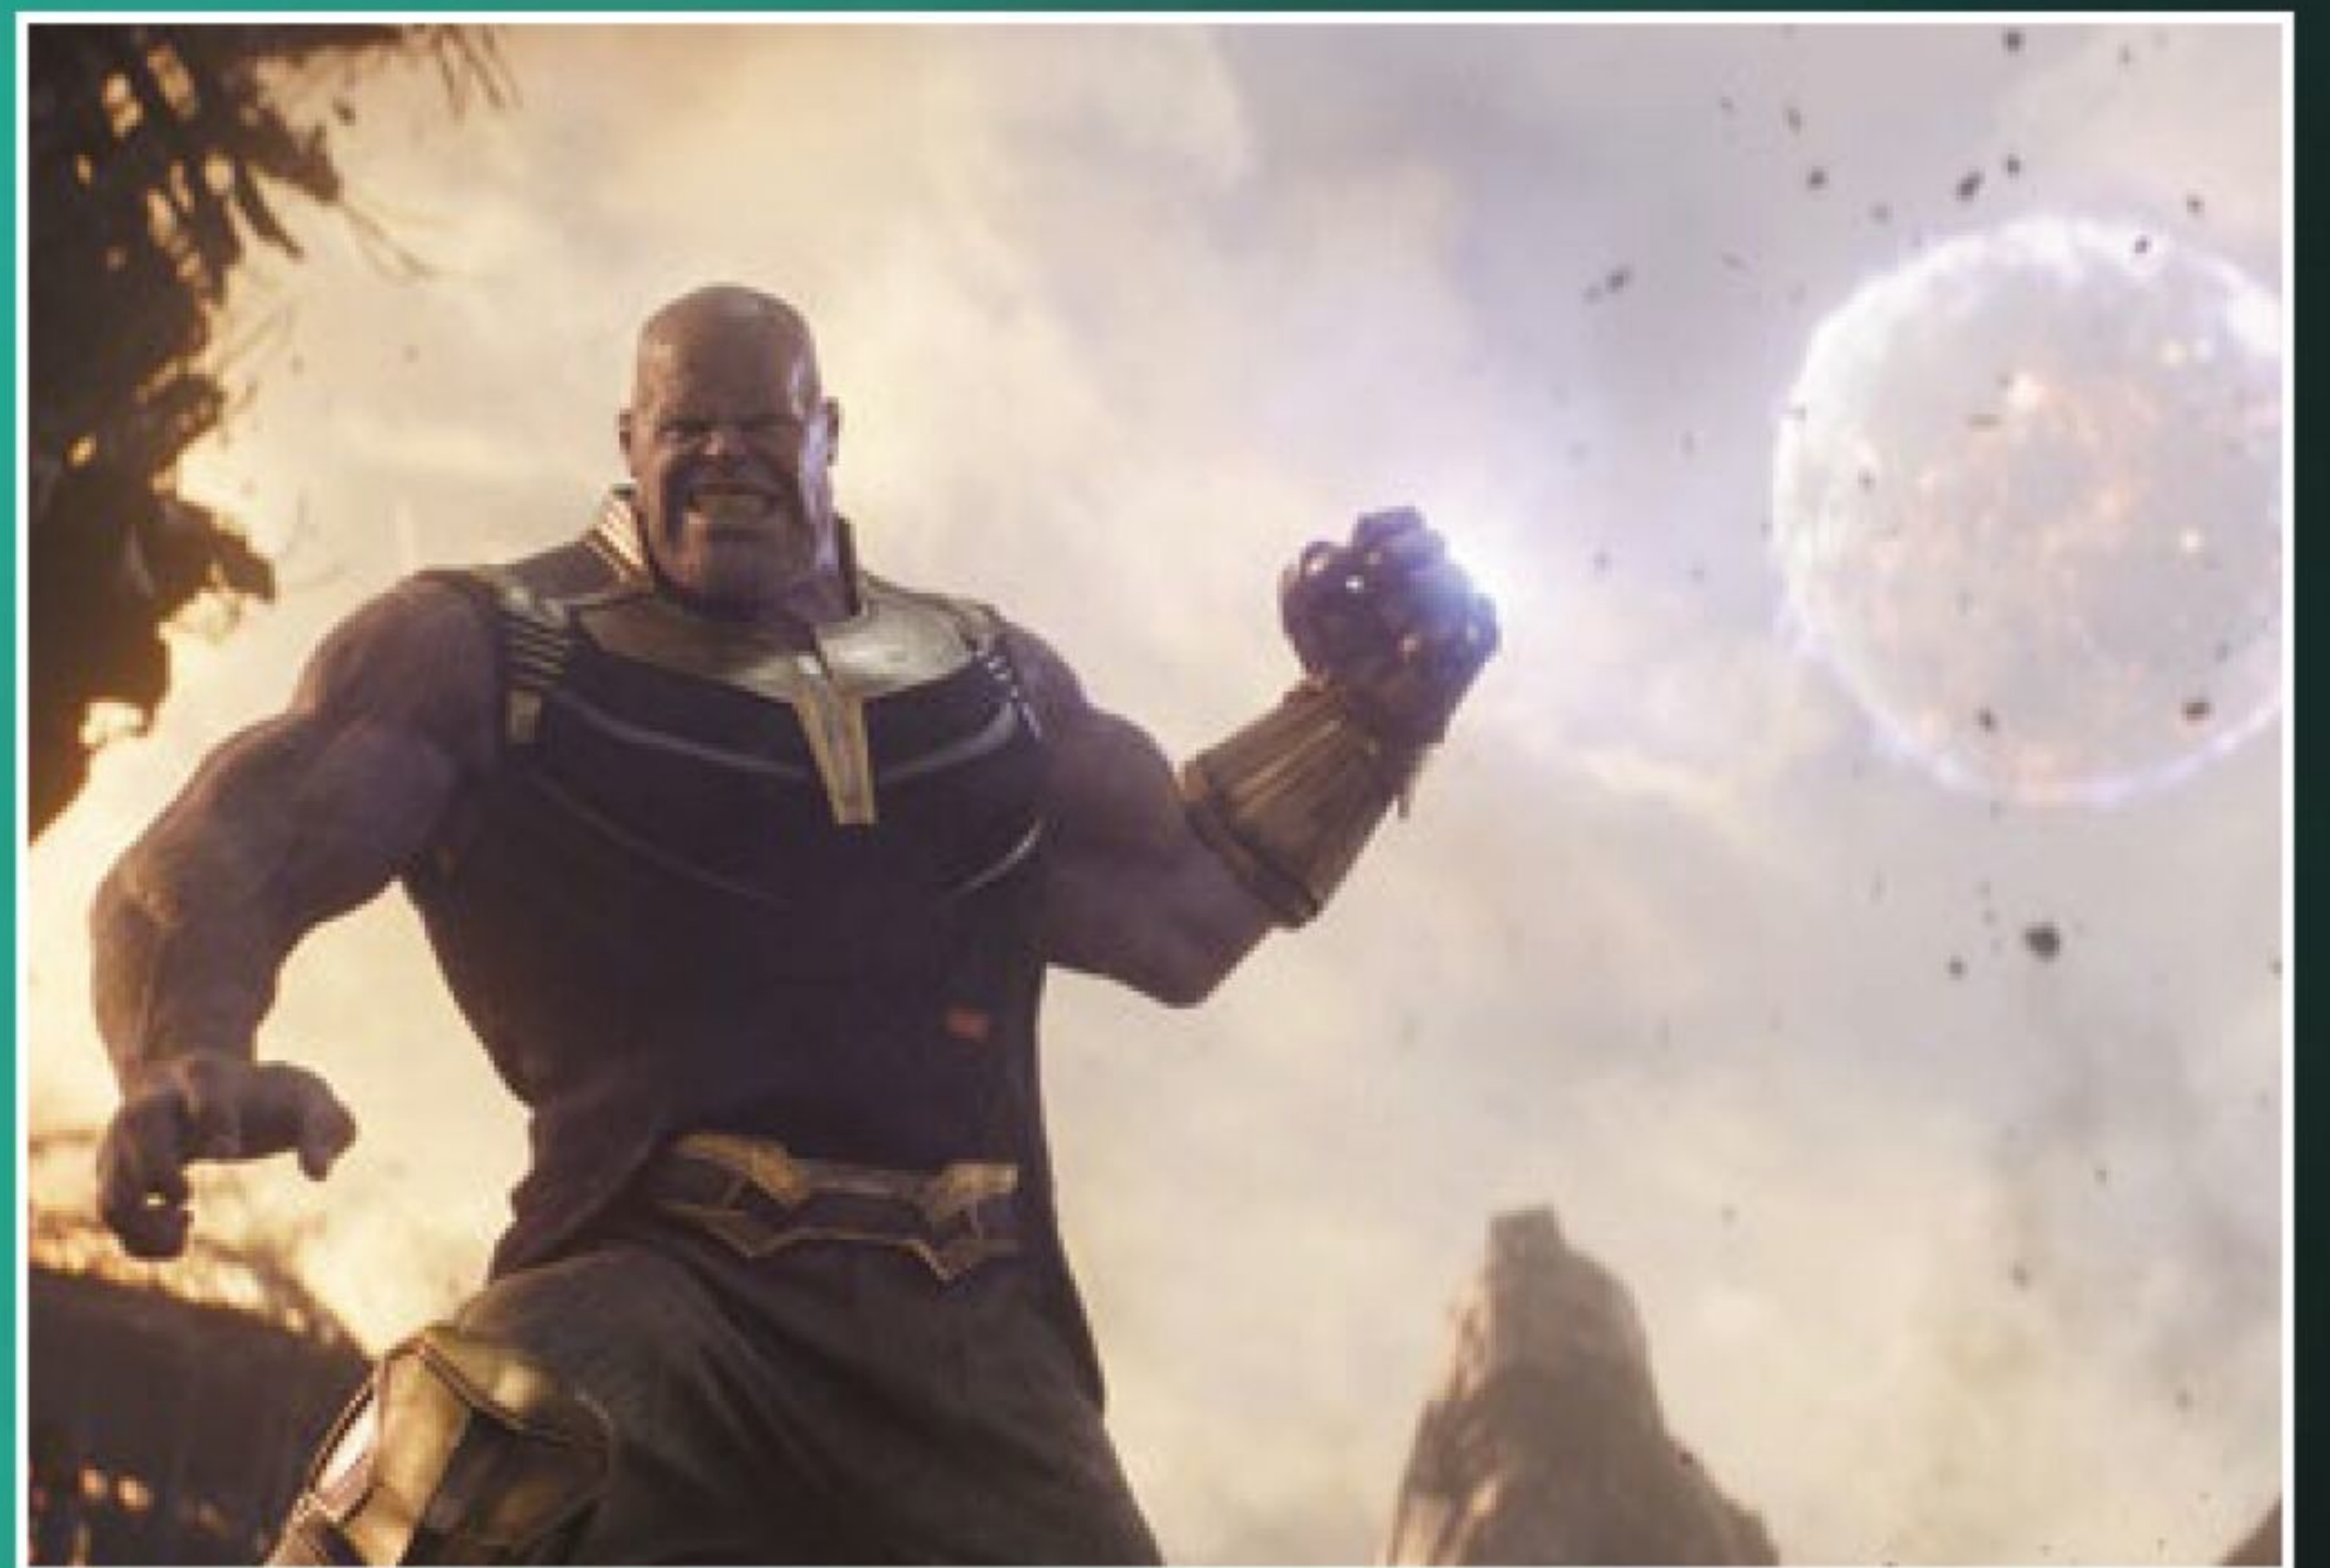

WHERE'S LOKI?

Loki is a magical trickster demigod and son of a Frost Giant, but apparently the Time Variance Authority (TVA) can control him, perhaps with a collar that dampens his powers, or detonates if he escapes. We have met Mobius M. Mobius, a middle-ranking bureaucrat of the TVA, in the trailer too. Writer Walt Simonson created the TVA in 1986, and made all staff (including Mobius) clones resembling Mark Gruenwald, who was the keeper of continuity at Marvel at the time!

WHERE'S LOKI?

We've seen an apocalyptic landscape where a broken moon has fallen onto the planet. The purple scene reminds us of two things: Thanos throwing a moon with the Power Stone; or the planet Vormir – and we see someone with red hair and a black outfit (like Black Widow). The series shows that Loki was behind the famous 'D.B. Cooper' crime in 1971, where a man held a flight hostage for $200,000, took the money and parachuted away, never to be seen again.

WHERE'S LOKI?

We know Loki will revisit Stark Tower, because he stands by the mirror and pillars from the 'We have a Hulk' scene, in a new outfit. We also see Loki with a 'Vote Loki' pin. In the 2016 comic story Vote Loki, the trickster runs for President of the USA. There is an arcade game in the scene called 'Polybius'; an urban legend says the game arrived in Oregon arcades in 1981, had a strange effect on players, and vanished after a month.

ADVENTURE AGAIN

MARCELINE AND PRINCESS BUBBLEGUM ARE BACK!

OBSIDIAN OVERVIEW

A long time ago, when Molto Larvo attacked the Glass Kingdom, the Glass People asked Princess Bubblegum for help. Marceline tagged along, and ended up driving Larvo into the Furnace with her song, 'Woke Up'. For centuries, the Glass People sang Marceline's song (incorrectly) every year to keep Larvo locked inside. One day, Glassboy broke into the Furnace to heal his cracked face, but accidentally freed Larvo, who is determined to destroy Marceline. Marceline returns, but her song isn't strong enough to drive Larvo back. Can Marceline and Bubblegum save the Glass Kingdom?

GROSS GALLERY

THE K-ZONE TEAM SHARES THEIR GROSSEST MOVIE MEMORIES!

GHOSTBUSTERS
No list would be complete without the number one movie for slime, goo and ectoplasm! It literally has a character called 'Slimer'; what could possibly compete with a giant green gooey ghost formed out of ectoplasm, that slurps down every snack in sight and leaves a slime trail? Getting slimed is simply part of the job for a Ghostbuster.

THE LION KING
When Timon and Pumbaa rescue Simba, they need to make a few changes to the young lion's diet, so bugs are the main course. Obviously eating bugs is normal for many animals and people, but the scene where the crew roll a log aside to reveal a smorgasbord of creepy crawlies has far too much wriggling, squishing, and chewing.

GOOSEBUMPS
Filled with the monsters of R.L. Stine's books, this movie has a few gross moments. When Slappy releases The Blob from 'The Blob That Ate Everyone', the funhouse is flooded with red glowing goo and The Blob traps Stine in its slimy body. The only scene that out-goos The Blob is when the monsters melt into a black slime tornado that is sucked into the book.

HARRY POTTER
With eight movies in the Harry Potter series, there are a few gross moments! One scene from The Chamber of Secrets has always stuck in our head like the unforgettable flavour of an earwax-flavoured Bertie Botts Every Flavour Bean! Two words... 'Eat slugs'. Ron's poorly cast spell with a broken wand leads to a scene that's enough to make your skin crawl. We really need to focus on not throwing up while Ron spits out a bucket's worth of slugs.

People say two heads are better than one, but in the case of this Poison Pokémon, we aren't so sure. Each of the Weezing heads contains a different toxin and when the two gases mix... Well, beware the stench and toxicity! Even the slightly posh Galarian Weezing can't hide their grimy ways!

GALARIAN WEEZING

GARBODOR

This Poison Pokémon looks like clumps of garbage, which makes sense since it does like to live in garbage dumps. If that isn't gross enough, how about the toxic gas it spews out of its body? Ew!

MUK

Evolving from Grimer, this sludge-like Pokémon is so toxic that even accidentally brushing against it causes severe sickness. Must be all the trash it likes to eat! The Alolan Muk even goes after Trubbish and Garbodor – savage!

ALOLAN MUK

SLIGGOO

A Dragon Pokémon that coats its body with powerful sticky mucus, and uses that mucus to eat! Yep, Sliggoo sprays mucus at their prey, waits for it to dissolve, then slurps it up. Lck!

TOTAL GROSS OUT

FREAKY ANIMALS THAT MAKE US GO 'YUCK!'

OARFISH
This strange fish can grow as big as 8-17 metres long! Imagine enjoying a day at the beach only to have one brush against your leg in the surf. Yuck!

Gross Scale:
5/10

LEECH
These slimy, slippery suckers can survive on the blood of animals and humans. Discovering one in your sock on a bushwalk is deffo a very unpleasant experience.

Gross Scale:
6/10

HAIRY FROGFISH
A picture is apparently worth a thousand words, and if this face full of hairy spines isn't enough to completely spoil your lunch, we salute you!

Gross Scale:
6.5/10

BOMBADIER BEETLE
Watch out! This beetle shoots steaming hot liquid from its rear when threatened. We feel sorry for any animal on the receiving end of that attack. LOL!

Gross Scale:
7/10

VULTURE
Living on a diet of dead animals is one thing, but these scavengers also pee on their legs to kill the bacteria from animal carcasses. We get it, but also no thanks!

SEA LAMPREY
Also referred to as the 'Vampire Fish', the sea lamprey latches onto fish with a teeth-lined, suction cup mouth and feeds on the blood and fluids of the fish.

PRANKS! FAILS

K-ZONERS TELL US ABOUT THE TIMES WHEN PRANKS DIDN'T GO AS PLANNED!

CALL OF DOODY

You know the prank where you pretend a melted chocolate bar is actually pet poo? I decided to try it on my younger brother, and I bet him that I'd eat the 'poo', AKA the fake prop that was really melted chocolate. When I took a bite, he threw up! I got in trouble for getting chocolate on our carpet, and got told off for all the spew too!

Lany, NSW

CAP OFF

I put a mustard bottle under my sister's pillow on April Fool's Day. The prank was that the bottle was meant to squirt mustard when she lay down, but in the end the nozzle was closed so it didn't work. Epic fail!

FLOUR SOUR

You know that old saying, 'You have to cover the kitchen in flour to bake a cake' ... or something like that. We don't know, we've never really baked anything before...

I balanced a big bag of flour on top of the door to the room I shared with my brother. I was really hoping I could get a photo of him covered in flour. He noticed the bag and realised I was trying to prank him, so he called for me to come into the room as quickly as possible. In my rush, I forgot about the prank plan and the bag of flour fell on me instead. I didn't hear the end of it for weeks!

► SAGA SETS

What feels like a long, long time ago in this galaxy, LEGO Star Wars: The Skywalker Saga was announced. However, the LEGO game's Force is finally ready to awaken in 2021! This latest set builds on every original LEGO Star Wars game. You can play out the epic Skywalker Saga in any order, or simply choose to cruise through a secret-stuffed galaxy in a bricky spaceship.

► AVENGERS ASSEMBLED

Build your own Avengers squad in LEGO Marvel Super Heroes. Break bricks and biff baddies sent out by the deadly Doctor Doom and Loki, or create the ultimate comic/Marvel movie crossover when you play through the epic LEGO Marvel's Avengers. Step up the stud count (and the stakes) for the sequel in LEGO Marvel Super Heroes 2!

► BATMAN BUILDS

Missing Marvel? Why not try activating a thrilling trilogy of batty LEGO Batman games! You can blast through a new story in LEGO Batman: The Videogame. Bust the baddies in a gigantic version of Gotham City in LEGO Batman 2: DC Super Heroes, then break out into the world beyond Gotham in the aptly titled LEGO Batman 3: Beyond Gotham. Good luck!

TER BRICKS

on next-gen for these LEGO games that link to some of K-Zone's fave films!

Chase magical treasures in LEGO Pirates of the Caribbean: The Video Game!

► POTTER PIECES

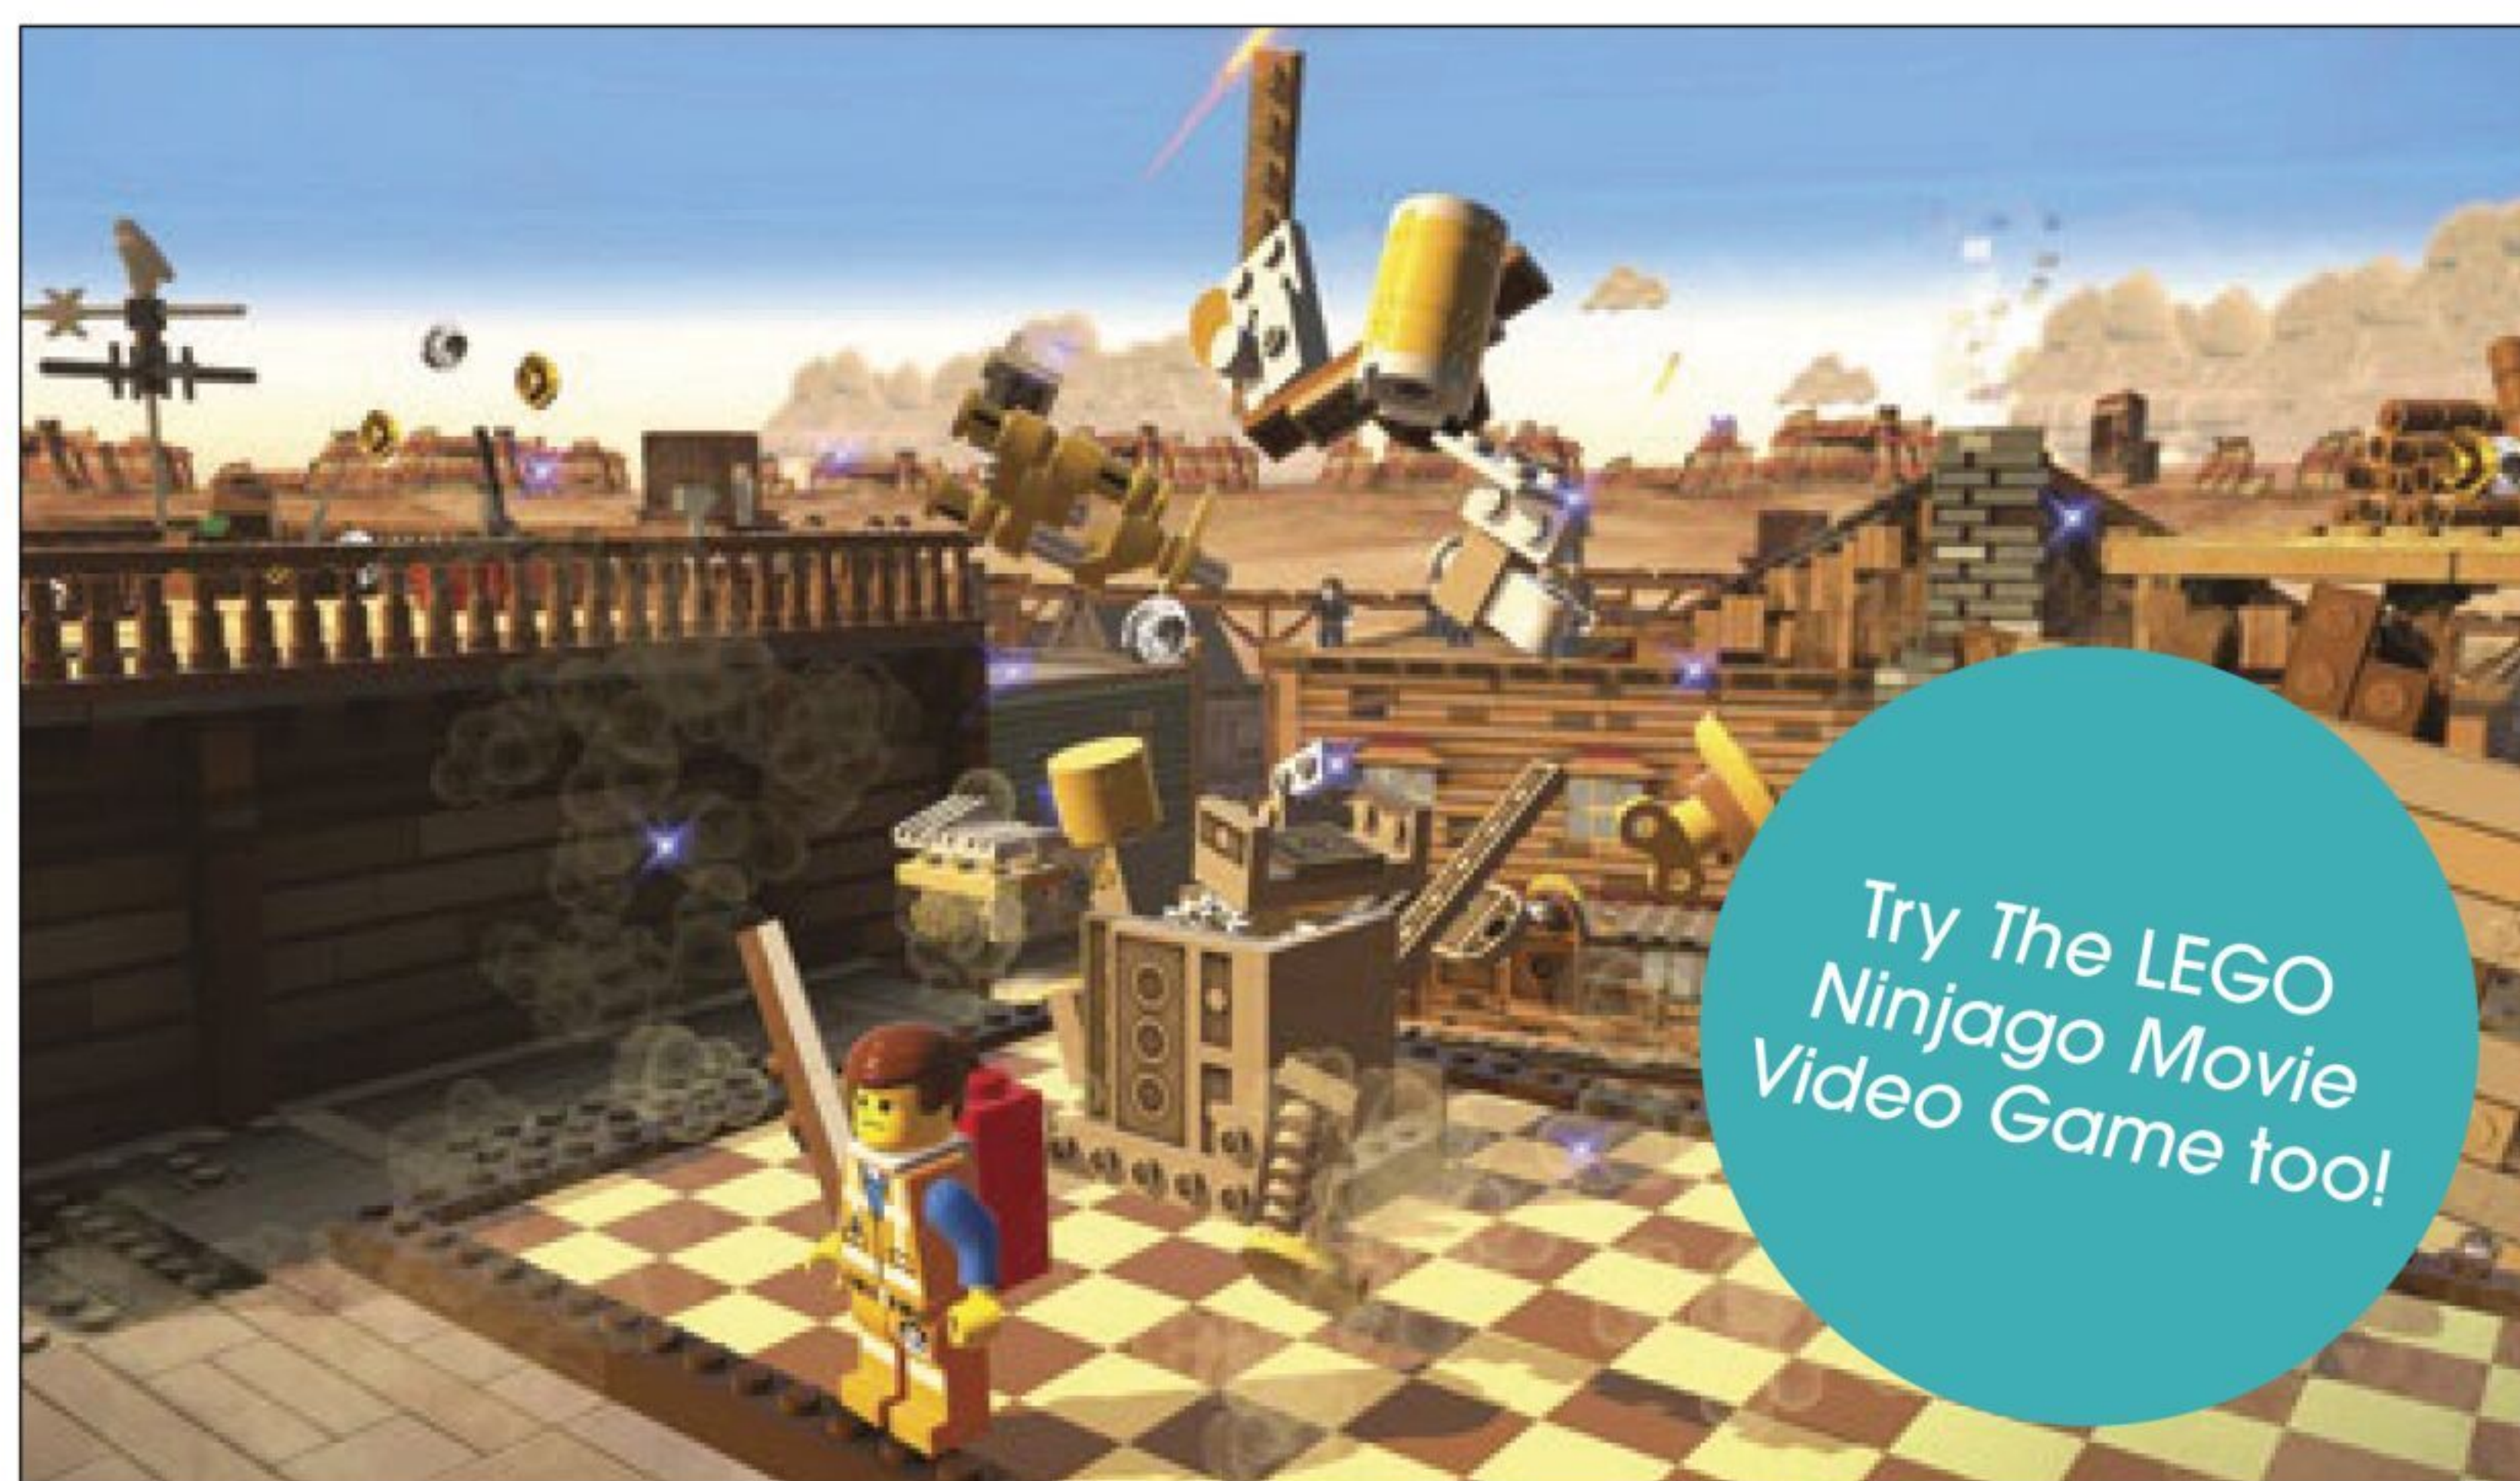

Fun fact: Harry Potter was the very first film franchise to be turned into a LEGO videogame! Wow! Wizard your way through the hallowed Hogwarts halls in Harry's earliest school years in LEGO Harry Potter: Years 1-4. Next, try LEGO Harry Potter: Years 5-7, or simply manage to merge all the years together in one experience with the LEGO Harry Potter Collection!

► MIDDLE-EARTH MIGHT

LEGO The Hobbit takes you on a journey into the wonders of magical Middle-earth. It squishes the dwarf deeds of the first two Hobbit movies into one LEGO set! Found the finish? Now get lost in the legends of LEGO The Lord of the Rings!

Tame other mighty monsters in LEGO Jurassic World!

Try The LEGO Ninjago Movie Video Game too!

► LOTSA LEGO

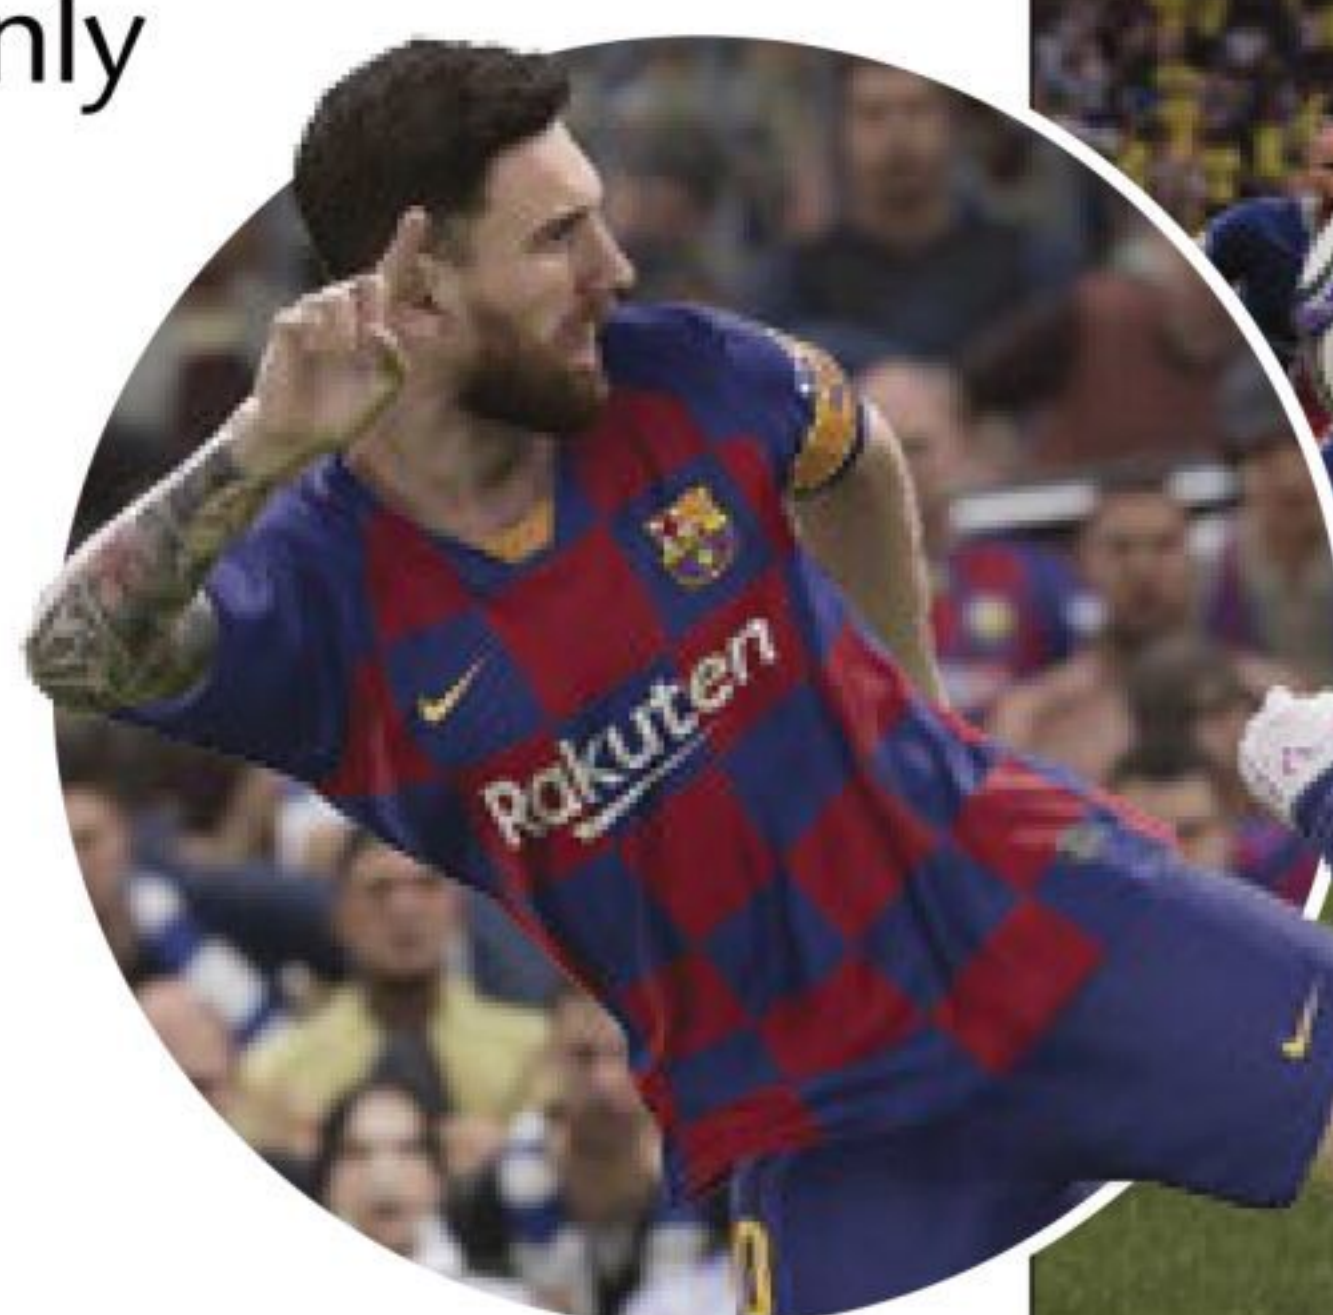

One of our fave LEGO things is making the ultimate crossover between sets, and that's the idea behind The LEGO Movie flicks and their great videogame spin-offs. So everything really is absolutely awesome in The LEGO Movie Videogame! Save Emmet and his crew from Lord Business, then put the pieces of peace together in The LEGO Movie 2 Videogame.

HAVING

No matter the weather outside, these sporty titles are a great way to have

► SWEET SOCCER

Got the itch to dance a ball down the pitch? You better score a netter in FIFA 21! FIFA fever's only cure is a big dose of big-booted goal, or step over to eFootball PES 2021 and make a mate's defence look messy with legendary Lionel Messi, the real PES (goal) dispenser.

► DUNK FUNK

Handballs are A-OK when you add a bit of extra bounce to a soccer ball and totes transform it into a basketball. Ditch the soccer kicks and add a pair of super stylish kicks for extra jump height in NBA 2K21, 'K? This game has got b-ball dunks so tall, you enter freefall. Talk about a space jam! So, what are you waiting for? Come on and slam!

► FOOTY FUN

Squish that round basketball into an oval, then step onto a different kind of oval for another kind of football. Rugby 20 gets you to brawl for the ball. You can also evolve to resolve how a high kick revolves with the hijinks of AFL Evolution 2!

TABLET TENNIS

Get a ball from the comfort of your couch!

► RAD RALLY

Shrink that orig round ball to embrace the ace pace of these tennis games, sets and matches. Make a high-scoring racket with your racquet in AO Tennis 2. Duck and bob around the court, then smash and lob the ball to all sorts in Tennis World Tour 2!

► FAIRWAY FUN

With a tinier ball, swing into a different kind of volley. Good golly, golf games are great! Get a fair way down the fairway of PGA Tour 2K21, or pass the controller clubs and slice into the marvellous mini-golf masterpiece, Golf With Your Friends. Want a real hole in fun? Take What the Golf? for a spin!

► WHEELIE REALLY

Forget about kickable balls for a sec. Use the balls of your feet to pedal your way through the epic trek of Tour de France 2020. Otherwise, try the death-defying downward descents of Lonely Mountains: Downhill, and the cycle of cycling in the Lonely Mountains DLC.

Temtem is an online game, so play privately and safely!

DID YOU KNOW?
Temtem developer Crema was a couple of months deep into development of another game, but they didn't like it, so they ditched that idea. The team of devs joked about making a tribute to the Pokémon games they adored. When they stopped laughing, they started making that game: Temtem!

TEMTEM

Get ready for a totes tight title, whose roots stem-stem from Pokémon-esque gem-gems and acts as a love letter to them-them!

If you play and love Pokémon games, Temtem is def your jam. If you don't, then you'll find that Temtem is a mad monster collector that's mighty kind to newcomers and can stand on its own. First, take the time-time to give your hero a cool look and name, then head into the story. It takes place on a giant floating world, where stacks of Temtem critters and Temtem tamers kick it. Your own Happy Apprentice's Eve celebration quickly leads you to explore this whole new world, and your shiny Tempedia isn't going to stuff itself with Temtem by itself. So, time to start battling and catching! Rustle around in the long grass, and you'll find untamed Temtem eager to throw down. Take 'em down or catch 'em to build a rad roster. You'll have plenty of battles against tamers early on. Keep your Temtem healthy to work towards nabbing the ultimate Temtem tamer title. If you can't wait to play Temtem, it's playable in Early Access on PC and PS5 right now!

DID YOU KNOW?

The first Digimon game landed in Australia 20 years, on the original PlayStation. There are dozens of Digimon games, and 14 have made it to Australia. Digimon Survive will be a spin-off from the main Digimon Story and Digimon World series. Expect unique features that those games don't have!

DIGIMON SURVIVE

High five to anyone who aims to thrive in Digimon Survive; a game that will put your tactical choices to the ultimate test!

There are stacks of cool activities to dig into on school camping trips, including team games, fun activities outside while enjoying the beauty of nature, and of course, being transported into strange worlds filled with mean monsters and deadly danger. Wait. That sounds like quite the trip! OK, so maybe that isn't what happens to everyone IRL, but it's the setup for the new group of teens in Digimon Survive. It's up to you to lead Takuma and his pals through this awesomely animated game world and back home. They will have to brawl in a few epic biffs in order to return. The 2D top-down battles let you tactically plan battles with your Digimon, and there will be plenty of big choices that have a big impact on your monster mates' Digivolutions. The reason that's a big deal is because there are actually over 100 Digimon to find, fight and add to your found fisticuff fam. Plus, those specific decisions can change the ending of the game!

Click in the right joystick (R3) to whip out the SnaxScope. Every time you're in a new area, scan everything with the SnaxScope. This will start to fill the pages of your Bugapedia, your ultimate guide to capturing the trickier Bugsnax you come across!

BUGSNAX

Getting the knack of tracking each new tasty Bugsnak in Bugsnax is a gameplay treat that's totes worth nomming!

Bugsnax takes a literal approach to the saying, 'You are what you eat.' Eating a Strabby means you'll grow a strawberry hand or foot. Fancy a carrot-y appendage? Crunch down on a carrot-like Rootle. Swap a mitt for meat with a scurrying Shishkabug. There are 100 Bugsnax to sniff out. This wacky, snacky life is normal on Snaktooth Island. Play as a visiting hotshot journo who's been tasked with finding the Aussie adventurer Elizabert Megafig. After you're sent tumbling out of your flying ship by a flying pizza, you quickly find that Megafig is mega missing! No need to panic. Her friendly food-fanatic followers are here to guide you, but they are so hangry for Bugsnax that your first deed is to feed 'em. Once you help them, they'll share what you need to know. Nattering with them leads to succulent side quests and biomes stuffed with beautiful bounties of bounding Bugsnax!

PRO TIP!

Bikes are way less forgiving than cars when it comes to getting in and out of corners at speed! Get used to going slow into corners. Start on the opposite corner, cut across to the other side while following the edge of the track, then go full speed out of the corner.

RIDE 4

You're in for the most frantic full-speed ride of your life when you put out the feelers for the speediest two wheelers in Ride 4!

Ride 4 is the two-wheel, full-throttle, zero-seatbelt ride you're looking for. New to two-wheel racers? Too easy. They're a lot faster than pushbikes. Forget about any sneaky handbrake turns. This is all speed on the straights and hard braking before corners. It's OK to mess up a few times and skid out of control, smash straight into a wall or send your rider cartwheeling helmet over boots at full speed. It's all good for learning, great for LOL and our fave use for Photo Mode! Now, climb back onto that speedy bike. Mastering the vroom-vroom bike basics is the key to survival and success. Soon you'll be skidding in the rain, or tearing around corners, knee just off the track, with the lights turned down at night. Tear up those tough turning tracks in Career Mode. Sure, you start out as a bike baby barely able to crawl, but you'll soon reach the spike heights of wondrous World Leagues. Good luck!

Love coins and power-ups? Well, you're gonna love scaling trees. Every 100 coins earns an extra life, so it's absolutely worth sniffing out every spare coin you can get your mitts on. You don't need any of the special power-ups to do it (though they make it easier). Scale each tree to score secret treasures!

SUPER MARIO 3D WORLD + BOWSER'S FURY

Feel the fully fun fury of a recreated classic Super Mario journey spliced with a neat new adventure against an actual big, bad Bowser!

Big-bad Bowser is up to his old tricks again in this two-part 3D adventure. The Super Mario 3D World part is a fully Switched-on enhancement of the original Wii U game of the same name. Pick from Mario, Luigi, Peach or Toad, plus a secret fifth character later in the game. Mario is the main all-rounder. Luigi is a higher jumper than his bro. Peach can float, which is always super handy if you miss a jump. Toad is toad-ally the fastest of the super bunch. The main game has a stack of tricky treasure-stuffed levels to tackle solo or in four-player local co-op. There are stacks of secrets to dig up in each of the unique worlds, but don't take too long. The clock is always tick-ticking! Plus, that Bowser's Fury bit features a Bowser the size of Godzilla, inking up the usually lovely Lake Lapcat... Yep, it's total chaos! Toss a Joy-Con to your bud in order to play as the temporary good guy Bowser Jr in Bowser's Fury.

PRO TIP!

Keep a close eye out for ladders on each puzzle, as these are essential for cracking the main puzzles. However, look closer and you will spot faded ladders in certain rooms. Scale down faded ladders to discover secret rooms. They each have their own puzzles, but cracking those will reward you with some rad hats!

THE PEDESTRIAN

One definition of 'pedestrian' means 'dull', however don't be fooled! The Pedestrian is a puzzle-packed peak platformer that is anything but boring!

There are many public signs to be seen out there; 'Stop', 'Give Way', or even the stick-figure stacked 'Watch for pedestrians'. Clearly, those ever clever devs at Skookum Arts saw one of these signs and decided to turn it into a game. The Pedestrian has you playing as a slick sign stick figure, but you definitely won't be standing still. Platform your way between signs as the real world moves around you. It starts with a simple premise that takes you jogging through doors, jumping between platforms, or launching up ladders. However, before long those doors are no longer connected, and ladders go nowhere. There are big objects in your way. Lasers zap you into ink. Hm. You need to rearrange this node system of public signs. Link the doors. Join ladders. Block lasers, or shuffle around them. Beware; if you move a sign too far, the puzzle resets! Keep wandering to discover increasingly wondrous puzzles.

STAR WARS SQUADRONS

Shoot off into space and race to become the next ace with these pro piloting pointers for Star Wars Squadrons!

► DEADLY DRIFT

► MISSING MISSILES

Listen for warnings from wingmates when a baddie's on your tail. Missile incoming? Steer hard one way, full speed or boost, and throttle back to the midpoint. Steer another way. Full speed ahead again. Repeat to escape!

► STAR DESTROYING

Get in fast to get under the shields of big Imperial Star Destroyers and New Republic MC75 Star Cruisers, and then fire on the shield generators. Stick to the back or belly of the capital ship. Fighters and Interceptors strafe turrets. Bombers and Supports take out the targeting system, then power system.

GOAT TO

GREATEST OF ALL TIME JOKES AND MEMES!

Q Did you hear that Iron Man teamed up with the Silver Surfer?

A They became alloys!

Jason, Tas

Q Why is 'dark' spelled with a 'K' and not a 'C'?

A You can't 'C' in the dark!

Brit, NSW

Q Why did the comedian rip up their notes before performing?

A They contained tear-able puns!

Nash, Vic

Q Why should you be wary of trees?

A They are shady!

Vince, WA

Q What do you call the outfit worn by a cowboy?

A Ranch dressing!

Kirsty, NSW

Q Why do bakers always get to work early?

A They knead the dough!

Cam, SA

Voldemort was silly. He should have made John Cena one of the horcruxes... Harry would never have seen him!

Mish, SA

Knock, knock!
Who's there?
To!
To who?
It's 'to whom'!

Amira, Qld

Doctor: I'm sorry about the wait.
Me: That's OK...
I'm patient!

Leo, Vic

There once was an impostor among us.
Who for a while remained anonymous.
Using cunning and sleuth, blending in as part of the crew...
But in the end, everyone knew
The impostor was most likely Blue!

HAIR HORROR

My hair was getting long in lockdown, so my dad cut it. When he finished cutting my hair, there was basically none left. I was really annoyed and embarrassed.

Joseph, NZ

UNLUCKY!

MISSTEP

I was at a park running up steps, when I tripped and cut my lip open. Everyone at the park saw it happen. I was crying so much and was embarrassed. I had to get stitches. I still have the scar to this day!

Jackson, WA

SO UNLUCKY!

HANDLE WITH CARE

I was at the skate park and went down a slope on my scooter. I slipped off and the scooter went flying. There was no rubber on the handle and my belly landed on the metal. I had to stay in hospital for a week and I spent Christmas at the hospital!

Yuta, Vic

HEAPS UNLUCKY!

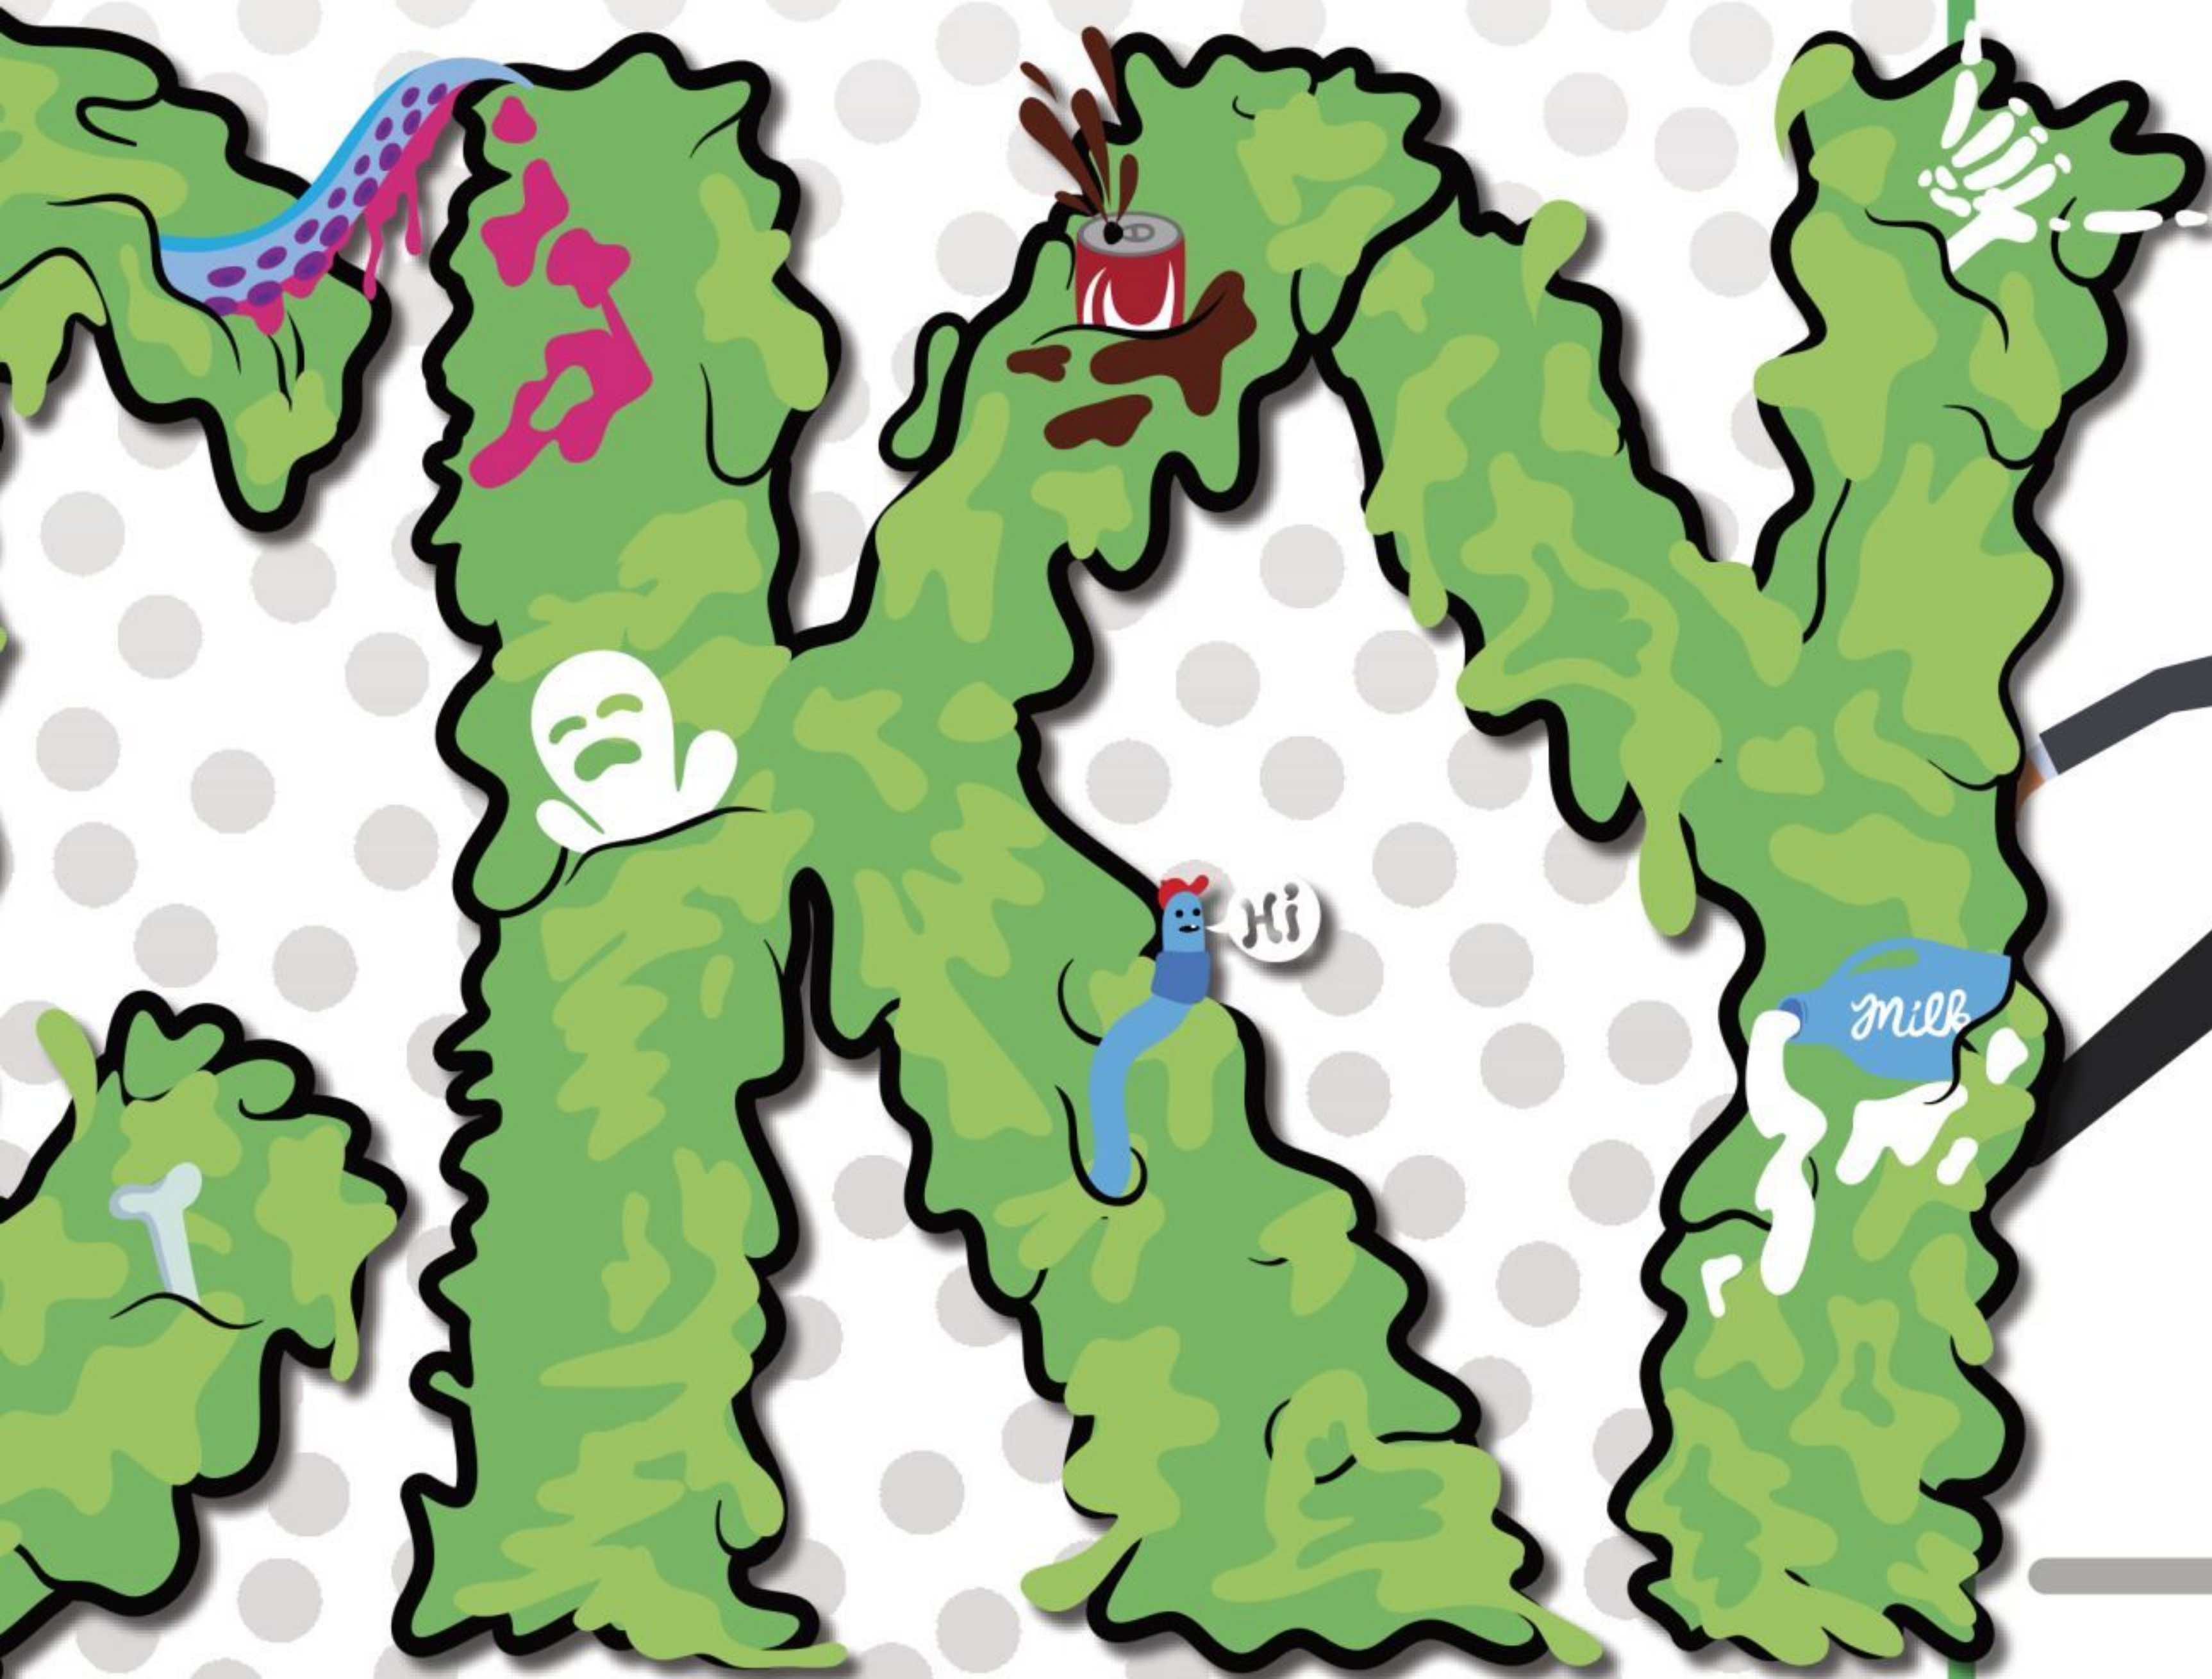

MOSQUIT-OW

I was sleeping in a tent outside and got bitten by a mosquito! When I woke up, the bite was really big. It hurt a lot!

Ewan, Qld

UNLUCKY!

ROCKING LESSON

I was rocking on a chair and my parents told me to stop, but I didn't. I kept doing it until I fell back into a window! I had staples in my head for a while and I have never rocked on a chair since.

Nicholas, SA

HEAPS UNLUCKY!

HOOOPS!

I was at a birthday party and I jumped onto a hoop. The hoop swung up and hit me right in the eye!

PRANKS! PRANKS! PRANKS!

SAVAGE AND SLY BUT ALWAYS A GOOD TIME!

BOSSY BABY

This prank's for the middle children. Convince an older sibling that your youngest sibling is actually a secret Boss Baby! Leave BabyCorp letters lying around their room. Keep this ruse up for over a week and watch as their suspicion grows – and the baby has no clue!

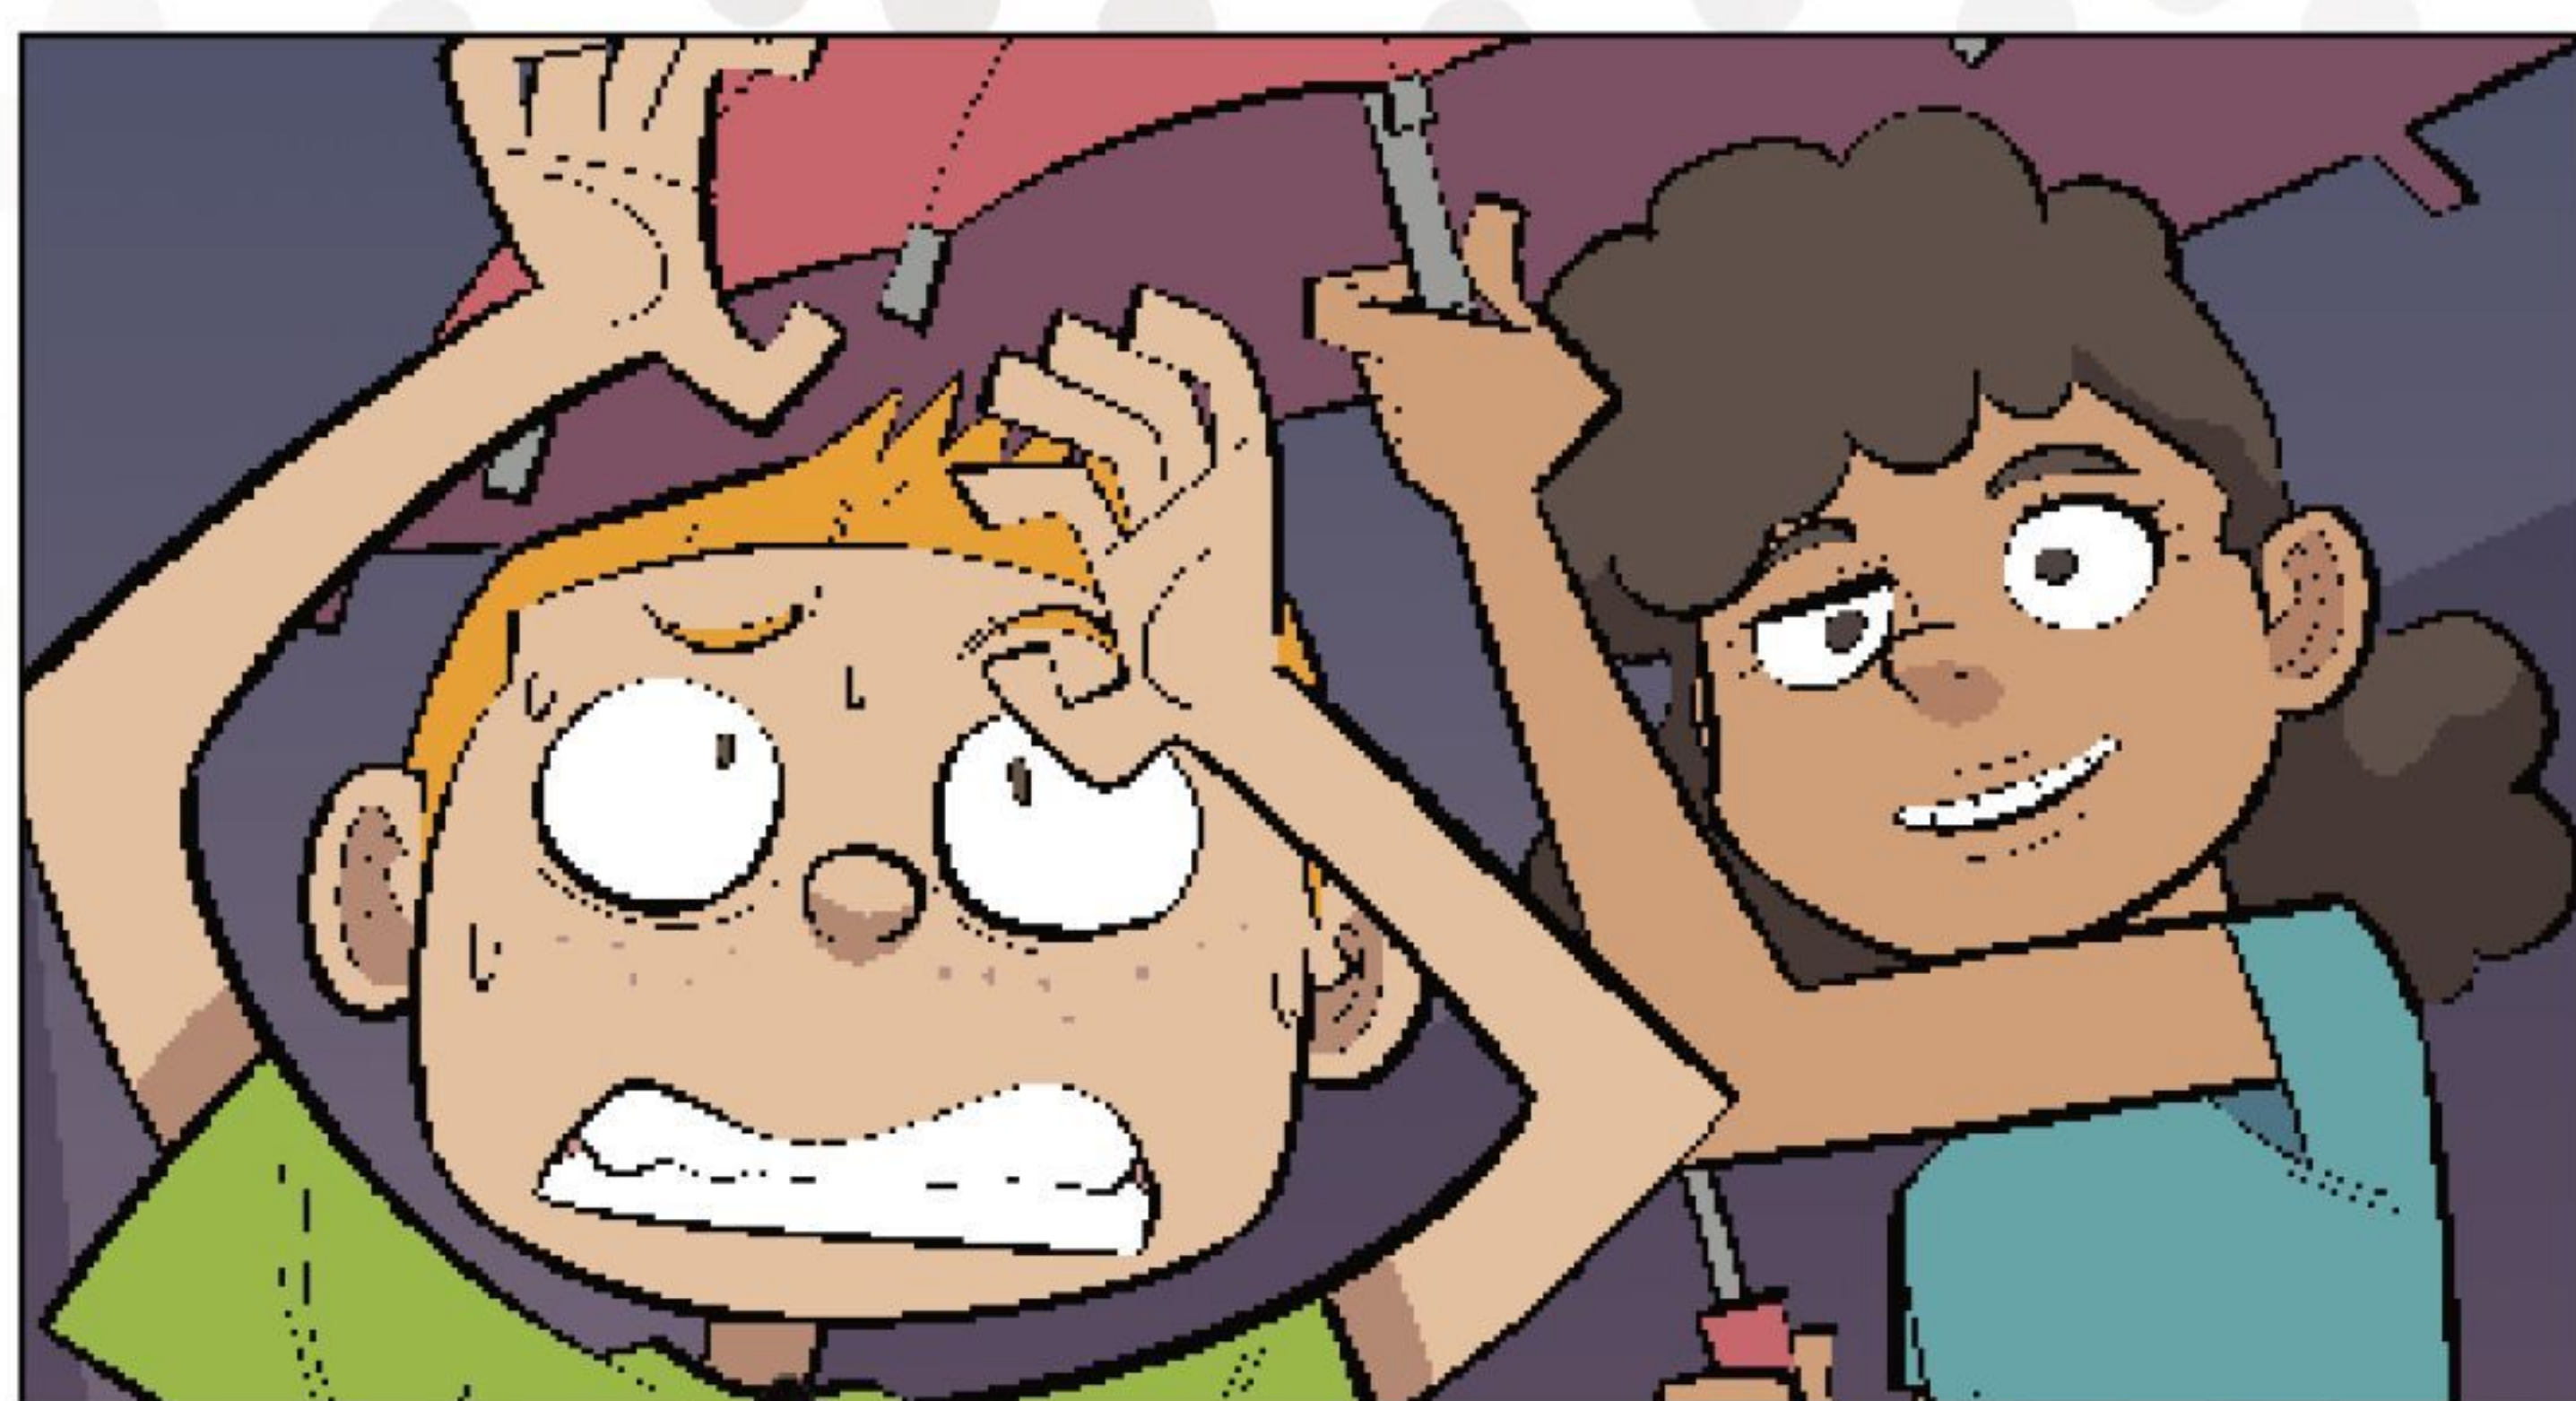

K-ZONER PRANK

HIGH POINT

Stand by a tall building and point up in the air like you have seen something on the roof. Get friends to join in and see if it encourages other people to do the same!

Hartley, SA

BAT ATTACK

Try to mimic the sound of a bat flapping its wings by quickly opening and closing an umbrella. Sneak up behind your prank victim and flap the umbrella just behind their head. This trick works best at dusk and night-time, when bats are known to be active! Watch as your victim jumps higher than a swooping flying fox, LOL!

FIT BIT

Bet your parent or guardian that they can't do 50 star jumps with their eyes closed while singing 'Twinkle Twinkle Little Star'. If they can't resist this stellar challenge, they'll start to jump with their eyes closed straight away. Quietly run and grab an audience to see the hilarity!
